

Experia Training Services

‘Multi-sensory for everyone’

Jessica Brown
Occupational Therapist

Introductory offer: Book training with Experia Training Services and receive a voucher that offers 10% off any item within the new Experia 2009 catalogue, valid until the end of November 2009.

As well as designing, manufacturing and developing a unique range of sensory equipment that is both fun to use and accessible to everyone, we are now able to offer knowledgeable and professional training on how to use sensory rooms and equipment to its full potential.

We can also offer training on other multi-sensory topics and bespoke training to meet your specific needs. Below are highlights of some of our training package features:

Package 1:

- The basics of multi-sensory - a great package to get you back to the basics of why you have a multi-sensory environment
- What is multi-sensory?
- Why use multi-sensory experiences in the educational environment?

Package 2:

- Stepping stones to a sensory environment - if you are thinking about getting a sensory room, this is the course for you!
- Assessing the need for a multi-sensory room
- How to design a multi-sensory room (including what equipment may be needed)

Package 3:

- Leap into your senses - teaching in a multi-sensory environment!
- Multi-sensory rooms: interact and learn how to use in the educational environment
- Practical multi-sensory resources/equipment in the educational environment

Package 4:

- Bespoke training
- If you already have a sensory room and/or equipment and would like a re-fresher session on how to use or more specific training using our products please contact us and we can discuss with you what your training needs are and how we can help.

Package 5:

- Sensory MOT – time for a ‘spring’ clean?
- Is the equipment in your sensory room still appropriate for your users?
- Does your sensory room and/or equipment need a ‘spring’ clean or repairs?
- We can help with the above. We can visit your multi-sensory room and based on its users and what the room is used for we can assess and advise whether your room and/or equipment continues to meet their needs. We can also advise on new products that may enhance the way the room is used for the users. Please contact us for further information.

Package 6:

- MILE mileage – Experia’s multi-sensory interactive learning environment
- Using the mile for immersive teaching
- Get ideas on what to create in your mile
- Lesson planning and scenario planning
- Collecting media for your scenarios
- Sharing scenarios

If you are interested in Experia Training Services please contact us on 0845 644 0977 or email Training@experia-innovations.co.uk.

All training will occur at your location. We come to you, parents and carers are welcome.

Jessica Brown is an American paediatric occupational therapist who has worked both in the United States and United Kingdom. She has many years of sensory experience working with children within mainstream and special schools, as well as hospitals and private clinics. Jessica has recently joined the Experia team to further help develop the therapeutic purpose and value of sensory products and to provide knowledgeable and professional training to users of sensory rooms and equipment.